Excellent Resource for 18thC and 19thC ReenactorsBy A CustomerA copiously illustrated work featuring a complete dictionary of hairdressing terms. Numerous period illustrations, photographs of antique hairdressing tools, and excerpts from period texts on the craft of hairdressing and wigmaking. A must-have resource for the 18th and 19th century reenactor.

This reference work is packed with hairdressing and wigmaking terms. Details of different kinds of wigs, beards, moustaches and hairstyles and also the implements and processes of hairdressing, with their history, descriptions and meanings from all periods are drawn from both the author's experience as a practising hairdresser and wigmaker and original manuscripts and printed sources. The author lists and describes not only the literary, vernacular and technical craft words of the 20th century, but also archaic, dialectical and obsolete words with their local uses and specialized meanings which are not readily available elsewhere. This dictionary will provide source material for those studying costume history and fashion, for artists, designers, collectors and the many people involved in the world of theatre and cinema, as well as for the professional hairdresser.
