Army officer Interview Questions: How to pass the Army Officer Selection Board Interviews. During the selection process, candidates who wish to become an Army Officer will be required to sit interviews at both the Armed Forces Careers Office (Afco) and also during their attendance at the Army Officer Selection Board Briefing and Main Board. The interview questions and tips contained within this guide concentrate on both the Armed Forces Careers Advisory interview and also the Aosb. The initial interview, which is held at your local Armed Forces Careers Office, will be undertaken by a member of the Army recruitment team. The purpose of this interview is to filter out those people who have the potential to join the Army as an Officer and this guide covers both the scoring criteria and also the interview questions with suggested responses. This guide really is the best resource available as it provides sample questions and suggested responses that applicants can use during their preparation. Contents of this manual include: Chapter 1 The Army Officer interview and the assessable competencies, Chapter 2 Generic questions for the Army Officer interview, Chapter 3 The Army Officer Selection Board (Aosb) scoring criteria, Chapter 4 How to pass the Army Officer Selection Board Interview. Visit www.How2Become.com for more career guides and titles that will help you pass the Army Officer selection process.
