The automobile business has always been the subject of greatest interest, since it is a very lucrative source of full-time, part-time, or even extra-retirement income. This book describes the work and necessary skills of independent brokers, auto dealers, managers and auto salespersons. It is not only a journey into the inner-workings of the business, but also a guide for anyone to enter the business at any of its many levels. The information presented can prepare the reader for opportunities into ownership, full or part-time employment, extra-retirement income, or even as a passive investor. It will guide the reader into a world of challenge, employment satisfaction, and financial freedom. It is the ultimate guide for today's entrepreneur to enter the field of buying and selling automobiles, SUVs and trucks. All the information presented in this book is factual, drawn from actual experience in the business at all levels, and presented with real-life examples by an author with several decades of experience in the business.
